

Clinical examination reveals multiple erythematous papules and plaques with silvery scales on the extensor surfaces of the elbows and knees, a classic presentation of plaque psoriasis. Treatment will be initiated with topical corticosteroids and calcipotriene.