

An adolescent patient is being evaluated for asthma. Spirometry tests show a reversible obstructive pattern after bronchodilator administration. An asthma action plan will be created, including a prescription for an albuterol rescue inhaler and a daily inhaled corticosteroid.