

Hypertension management is critical for preventing cardiovascular events. This patient's blood pressure remains elevated at 150/95 mmHg despite monotherapy with a thiazide diuretic. The next step is to add a second agent, likely an angiotensin-converting enzyme (ACE) inhibitor, to achieve the target pressure below 130/80 mmHg.